VOLUME 2 NUMBER 6

Huron Township Apple Festival: October 5 & 6

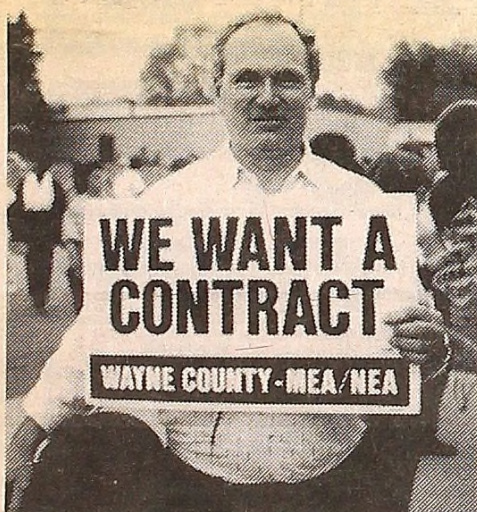

It's time, once again, for the annual Huron Township Apple Festival, to be held Saturday, October 5, and Sunday, October 6, in downtown New Boston.

This year's festival, the twelfth of its kind, will be bigger and better than ever! Featured will be all kinds of special events: a tractor pull; a canoe race; a fun run; a 10-K race; a 10-K wheelchair race; a bed race; dancing; live music; children's events; an auction; a magic show; raffle drawings, and more – all kicked off by a parade!

Everyone is invited to attend. It's a great way to bring in the autumn season! □

Teacher Contract Settlement May Be in the Works

Terrell Bird

Dr. William Bedell

By Tom Shamanski

Indications now seem to point toward a relatively quick settlement in the ongoing contract dispute between the Romulus teachers and the Romulus Board of Education.

Terry Bird, a Romulus High School teacher and spokesperson for the teachers, gave the first hint that a settlement may be imminent.

When contacted to determine if Bird wished to relate the teacher's side of the issues, he said, "At this time, I think it may be wise to put that on hold. It's our feeling that, at the last meeting, the Board was preparing to put forth a long-range proposal."

Later, Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, was asked to comment on the feasibility of a not-too-distant settlement.

"Yes, we are preparing an extensive proposal to be offered to the teachers," he said. "We feel that any teacher will be happy with it; however, they must be patient."

He then explained that, legally, the proposal must be offered in stages, adding that a substantial pay raise would be presented in the last stage of the proposal.

Bedell continued, "It's our feeling that the teachers need to work more time. Now, this doesn't mean more classroom time, but more time in planning for the children. We'll still have a 180-day year, but the teachers will put in more hours each day. Also, we need more management control in the schools."

Bedell spoke of the future: "We're in the midst of building schools of the twenty-first century. Therefore, we need contracts that will reflect new and different needs that will arise."

"It's our hope that, with implementation of these new school concepts, along with a new teacher contract, we may pave the way for individualizing instruction." □

The Romulus Jaycees are sponsoring a "Meet the Candidates" night at 8 p.m. on October 5, 1991, at Romulus VFW Post 9568 (39270 Huron River Drive). Please plan to attend. This is your chance to ask questions and to get acquainted with the people who are running for City Council in the election to be held on November 5, 1991. It is the duty of every voter to be as well informed as possible before going to the polls to cast his vote.

Romulus Arts and Crafts Fair a Success

The Fair, sponsored by the Romulus Arts Council, featured the wares of about 50 crafters. Also successful were the cake walk and concessions.

"Back to School" Means "Back to Snacks" Tips from WW

Thanks to Kathy Kowal for submitting the following information from Weight Watchers

After a day in school, "Mom, I'm home!" usually means, "Mom, I'm hungry!"

When most kids get home from school, the first thing they do is head to the kitchen for a snack. Snack time can provide a much-needed energy boost for children after a busy day, and is an ideal way to relax and make the transition from school to home.

Many nutrition experts agree that snacks can be a good idea for children. "Studies have shown that children who eat snacks have a better dietary intake than children who don't," states Dr. Marilyn Schorin, Manager, Nutrition Services, Weight Watchers International. "Properly planned snacks can be a great way to balance out your child's diet with foods they may not eat at regular meals."

For example, if your child dislikes cooked vegetables, raw vegetables with dip are a good snack choice. If you don't provide milk at mealtime, yogurt or puddings make good snacks.

"The key to developing good snack habits is combining great taste with nutrition," Schorin believes. "A parent's goal should be to provide nourishing snacks that kids enjoy eating."

The following three recipes from Weight Watchers Magazine fit the bill perfectly. All three feature kid-pleasing peanut butter—an excellent source of protein—and are fast, delicious, and great for the whole family. Crispy Peanut Butter Sticks, Peanut Butter Banana Snack, and Peanut Butter Pockets are bound to please kids of all ages!

Crispy Peanut Butter Sticks

makes 12 servings, 2 sticks each

12 slices reduced-calorie raisin bread
 1 ounce coarsely chopped, unsalted, dry-roasted peanuts

1/2 cup + 2 tablespoons smooth peanut butter
 Preheat oven to 150°F. Place bread slices on 2 baking sheets. Bake 30 minutes, or until dried, turning over once.

Cut crusts from bread; cut each slice in half; set aside. Place crusts along with any raisins or crumbs from the cutting in food processor; process to make coarse crumbs. Place crumbs on large piece of wax paper; toss with peanuts.

In small saucepan, melt peanut butter over low heat until smooth; remove from heat and cool slightly. With fork, dip bread in peanut butter, coating top and bottom, then press into crumb mixture to coat. Place peanut butter sticks on rack for 30 to 60 minutes to dry.

Each serving provides: 1 FA, 1 P, 1/2 B

Per serving: 133 cal, 6 g pro, 8 g fat, 12 g car, 158 mg sod, 0 mg chol

Peanut Butter Banana Snack

makes 4 servings

3 tablespoons smooth peanut butter

4 popcorn-flavored rice cakes

1 1/2 medium bananas, cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices

2 tablespoons golden raisins

1 tablespoon shredded coconut

2 teaspoons unsweetened wheat germ

Divide peanut butter evenly among rice cakes; spread to 1/2 inch of edge. Top evenly with remaining ingredients.

Each serving provides: 3/4 FA, 3/4 P, 1/2 B, 1 FR, 15 C

Per serving: 169 cal, 5 g pro, 7 g fat, 24 g car, 116 mg sod, 0 mg chol

Peanut Butter Pockets

makes 4 servings

1/2 cup part-skim ricotta cheese

1/4 cup smooth peanut butter

1/4 teaspoon ground allspice

1/8 teaspoon orange extract

2 tablespoons raisins

4 1-ounce pita breads, cut to make pockets

In mini food processor or blender, puree ricotta, peanut butter, allspice, and orange extract until smooth. Scrape into a small bowl. Add raisins; stir to combine.

Spoon 3 tablespoons spread into each pita; place in toaster oven. Toast until pita is lightly browned.

Each serving provides: 1 FA, 1 1/2 P, 1 B, 1/4 FR

Per serving: 240 cal, 11 g pro, 11 g fat, 26 g car, 296 mg sod, 10 mg chol

The Lighter Slice

The Wheel Thing

By Tom Shamanski

Recently, I had a near-death experience. Oh, I wasn't lying and dying in surgery somewhere while my soul, or whatever one wishes to call it, began its trip down a darkened tunnel toward a warm, soothing light, or some such oft-described sensation. No, I was just near death.

Some background: In addition to writing and working for The Romulus News, I freelance for a monthly business magazine. On a Sunday, the magazine's editor called, asking if I would interview the police chief of a Downriver community. As I rarely say no to money, I said yes. We tossed around a few jokes about not needing a police escort since I'd be seeing the head police-guy himself.

A week later, leaving for the interview, I was backing out of my driveway when my car hit and exploded a fire hydrant. Jumping out, I immediately spotted 50 or 60 neighborhood dogs (with the sole exception of John, a St. Bernard with whom I occasionally prayed) running my way. Teeth were flashing between tightly stretched lips, and loud snarling and barking permeated the air. I couldn't be sure, but I suspected that they were angry about the hydrant thing.

So, with my car's brake lights almost kissing my car's front lights, I took off running, eyes darting this way and that. I was looking for the dog warden or possibly a pleasant forest where those darn mutts would become distracted.

A block from my house, I shot up an alley, which, unfortunately, was located in a rough part of town... as is my house. Suddenly, I came upon 10 or 12 members of "The Wheel Thing," a notorious motorcycle club that specialized in eye gouging, tongue scratching, really bad bake sales, and outdoor barbecues (the dogs had mysteriously disappeared).

Of course, seeing me rushing to their meeting so, they assumed that I wanted to join the "Thing." I didn't; but how do you explain that to a 250-pound club president who's lost all his front teeth scratching tongues and who's responsible for all those horrible recipes for the bake sales?

"Y-Y-Yes, Chester," I said, trying to suppress the hysterical quiver in my voice. "I-I-I'd love to join your club."

"Oh, terrific," spat Chester, just missing my black, high-topped loafers. "Hey! We'll do the initiation ceremony now. Wadda ya say, Wheel guys?" The guys said yes.

In an instant, I pictured myself staked to the ground while each Wheel Thing guy ceremoniously circled my body screaming things like "Ha! What's your blood type, guy?" and "You got medical insurance, Buster?" Then, in a frenzy similar to getting six kids ready for school, the whole thing would culminate in wheelies from my nose to my toes.

Surprisingly, though, each Wheel guy quickly stood at attention as they began forming themselves into a straight line. Each guy approached me, shaking my hand and welcoming me to the club. The Public Relations guy, Bad Eddie, told me that they offered excellent medical insurance, a credit union, and had an active flower fund... plus they gave blood semi-monthly.

But it wasn't all niceties. Waiting at line's end was Chester, tenderly holding a motorcycle-shaped cake.

"Have some, new Wheel Thing guy!" he exclaimed.

"Ah... thanks, Chester, but I just ate last Wednesday."

"Aw, c'mon... I whipped it up just for you," he said.

So, I ate a piece of cake. On a dare, I once ate Alpo and salmon patties and almost had to be rushed to the hospital. This time, I had to be rushed to the hospital... near death.

Later, I was thankful for the club's perks. The flowers were cheerful, the medical insurance erased my hospital debts, the credit union lent me enough money to survive during my recuperation, and I needed a pint of blood.

One thing, though... I never found out who interviewed the police chief. □

Romulus Profile: Sharon Shank

By Tom Shamanski

There's a woman who works in Romulus who has walked barefoot over hot coals . . . 1,200°F hot coals! This same woman has had cancer, faced it, beat it, and believes she's a much better person because of it. This woman is one of the most positive persons one could meet, and, after talking to her and absorbing just a bit of her high-powered enthusiasm, one feels primed to face any challenge.

Her name is Sharon Shank; she's 37 years old, works for Central Distributors of Beer in Romulus, and is a director of the Romulus Jaycees as well as being their newsletter editor.

Originally, I set out to interview Shank because of her involvement with the Jaycees—and that, of course, will be covered—but the real story here is Shank herself. It's a story of courage; of continually seeking to become a better person; and of a strong, deep-rooted, and sincere desire to help others in any way possible.

We met for a late afternoon interview at Central Distributors, where Sharon has worked as a receptionist for 10 years. I was toting my usual coffee to caffeine my body; Shank needed nothing artificial to boost her up. . . . Life itself did that.

As we placed ourselves in an empty office, Shank, pretty with brown hair and a business suit to match, began talking enthusiastically about her Jaycees involvement. It was mentioned only incidentally that, at age 33, Shank discovered that she had breast cancer and had to have a mastectomy.

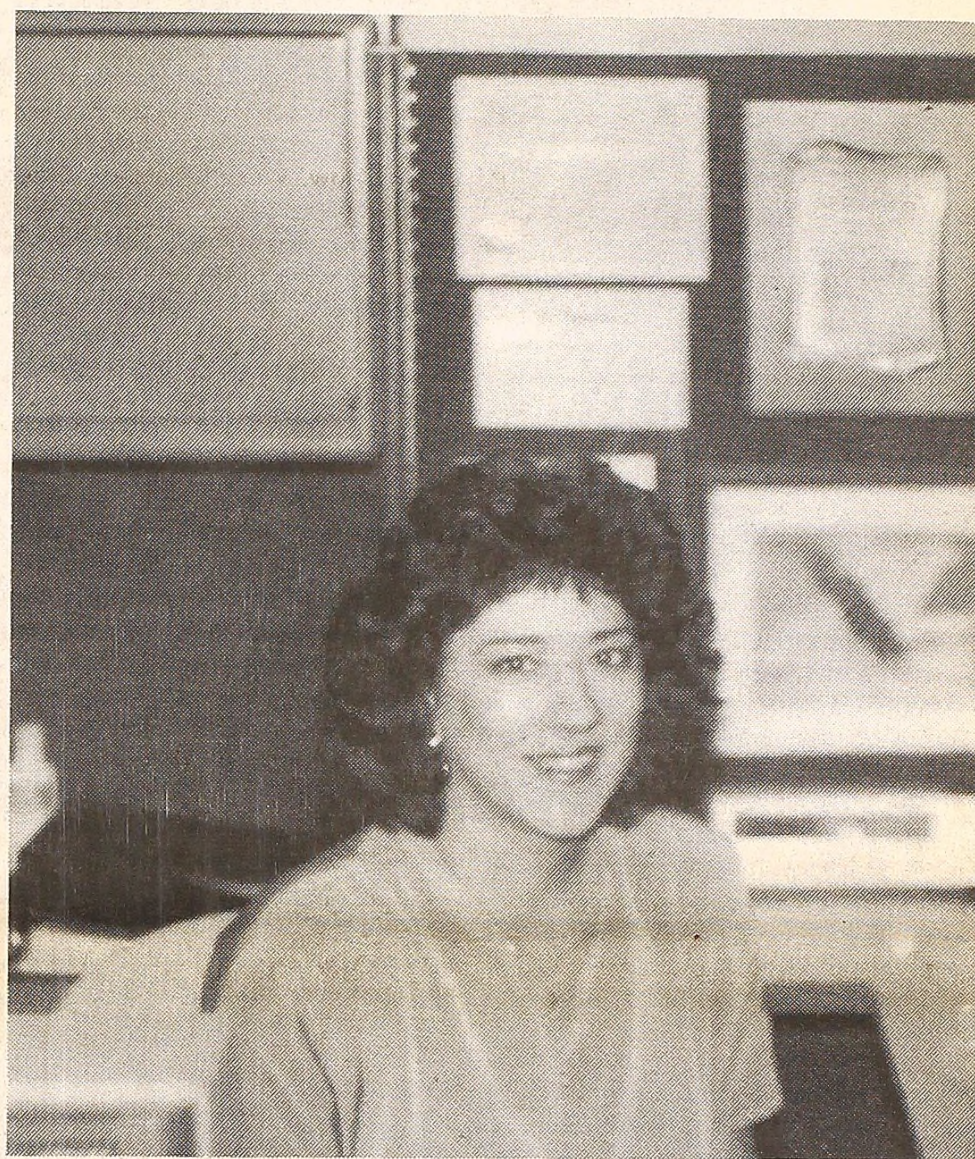

Asked to elaborate, she said, "After my surgery, I had to undergo chemotherapy for a year. Now, thankfully, the cancer's gone, but it was a major turning point in my life." She continued, relating how the cancer experience has dramatically changed the way she views life. Now, life's little annoyances, which can often beat us down, are kept in perspective, and she's fervently devoted to helping others.

"I'm involved with two cancer-related support groups. 'Reach To Recovery' is one and the other is Wyandotte Hospital's 'Just Between Us.' Basically, I visit women who are about to undergo breast surgery, or already have, and I show them different rehabilitation exercises. At the same time, I have an opportunity to talk to them about my experience. I think it helps them to talk to someone who has already had breast surgery and whose life has gone on . . . and even got better!" Her relationship with her husband, Ken, was, naturally, affected by her surgery. The love was always there, she smiled, but the cancer experience intensified it.

"I was fortunate to be surrounded by many loving and caring family members and friends during my surgery," Shank said. Some of these precious care-givers were her three sisters and their husbands; two nieces and four nephews; John Colina, the president of Central Distributors; Colina's sister, Karen Wilson; and John's and Karen's mother, Rose Ella Burkhardt.

A reflection: "You're forever changed after cancer. Good and wonderful things I once took for granted, I'm now acutely aware of. It's put me in touch with myself and made me realize how precious life really is. I now write poetry and I've come to love writing in general. I've become more of a 'people person' than ever before."

And it's the 'people person' aspect of Shank that has enabled her to excel in her role as a director and newsletter editor of the Romulus Jaycees. Actually, she said, she was involved with the Jaycees even before becoming a member. Jaycees from her workplace would ask her if she wished to help with this project or that project. When, through this interaction, she discovered the Jaycees are all about helping people, it became exceedingly appealing to her. . . . She joined.

"I believe what you give to another, you get back three times over," Shank stated. And she obviously follows her belief with action, as, during our conversation, Romulus Jaycees President, Ron Wenzel, popped in to tell Shank that she was the winner of a recent "Write-Up" competition. (She wrote on what she hoped to obtain individually through the Jaycees.)

Also, Wenzel relayed that she had been named Best Director of the Jaycees District (the district includes the cities of Romulus, Wayne, Livonia, Westland, Redford, Garden City, and Plymouth-Canton) for the year's first quarter. Before leaving, Wenzel characterized Shank as a very important part of Romulus's chapter, "giving 110% all the time."

Shank was elated with this news and her infectious enthusiasm enabled me to push aside my coffee. Now, I no longer needed an artificial boost.

Soon, settling back, I asked Shank to speak of the Jaycees in general, and the Romulus chapter in particular.

"Overall, the Jaycees' main mission is to provide leadership training and community service, and to be a place for personal development. It's for people from 21 to 39 years of age; there are about 5,000 Jaycees chapters throughout the Country.

"As for the Romulus chapter, we got off the ground about a year ago. Romulus's mayor, Beverly McAnally, felt very strong about having a chapter here. With her help and with the help of some major Romulus businesses, Central Distributors being one, we got started and are continuing to grow. But we do need more people. There are so many things we want to do, but, with our membership now at 37, we can only do so much."

Shank went on to say that one of the chapter's goals is, indeed, to have more Romulus residents sign on with the Jaycees. Since the chapter is relatively small, I asked her if she was fearful that more members would translate into a more impersonal group.

"I welcome that challenge because we do need more people so we can increase our service to the community." (Note: For further information on joining the Romulus Jaycees, call 285-6634.)

So, I wondered, what have the Romulus Jaycees done in their first year, and what are their current goals?

"The first thing is that we're host-

Romulus High School Athletics

RHS Varsity Football Is 4-0!

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

Victories over both Garden City (19-2) and Brooklyn Colombia Central (17-14) have moved the Eagles' record to an impressive 4-0 – the best start for the Romulus football programs since the 6-3 season of 1960.

These two victories were not easy for our mostly junior lineup, as Garden City battled the Eagles for the complete game and a homecoming-inspired team from Brooklyn nearly picked off the Eagles with a fourth-quarter comeback.

"Brooklyn played an excellent game, and we were very fortunate to win," stated Coach Dan Henry. "Woodhaven, Essex, and Milan are all undefeated, like us, and Adrian might be the best team on our schedule. We had better play a lot better in these games than we did this week, or the results will be much different."

After leaving the field at half time with a 0-0 deadlock, the Eagles came out and scored on their initial drive with an 18-yard pass from junior quarterback Bob Bergeron to senior running back Reggie Clemons.

The extra point was kicked by junior John Devereaux and the Eagles led 7-0.

On the next kickoff, Brooklyn broke an 88-yard return for a touchdown and retrieved the momentum that the Eagles had taken away.

Late in the third quarter, Reggie Clemons broke loose for an outstanding 23-yard run for a TD and Devereaux's point after made the score 14-6.

The next series saw Devereaux connect on a 31-yard field goal, and the Eagles led 17-6 with six minutes to go in the game.

The defense, led by Eric Love, Charlie Dudonis, Rob Graham, and Mike Grube (the September Eagle of the Month), virtually stopped the Golden Eagles from Brooklyn on each series. Their play in the first half is what is credited by the coaches as "saving" this game for us.

With less than two minutes to go, the Golden Eagles launched a 62-yard pass that was misplayed by the young Eagles' defensive secondary, and the two-point conversion made the score 17-14.

An on-side kick attempt was recovered by the Eagles, and, with Brooklyn out of time-outs, Bergeron and the offense ran out the clock for the win.

This is a great start for our '91-92 team, but our schedule gets tougher and tougher, from Adrian this week to Belleville at the end of the season.

"We have made some great strides with these hard-working young men, but it is obvious that we still have a ways to go," stated Coach Henry. "We had a lot of silly distractions this week that caused us not to be mentally tough for this game, and it sure showed in the first half. If we don't remember that hard work, concentration, and discipline got us this far, then we will be in big trouble in our next games."

On Friday night, Adrian comes to Carl Morris Field for a 7:30 contest. The crowd could be the biggest ever for a non-Homecoming game, and fans are encouraged to arrive early to avoid long ticket lines and possible parking problems.

Adrian always brings a fine team and a huge crowd to support their program, and Coach Henry and his assistants are hoping that our crowd will give us that small edge needed to pull off what could be the biggest victory in recent history of the Romulus football program.

Hope to see everyone who reads this article at the game this Friday, and don't forget that Friday, October 4, is the Homecoming contest versus Essex of Ontario. That, too, looks to be a very excellent contest.

Questions concerning games, times, or locations should be directed to the Athletic Office at 941-3414. Please attempt to do so prior to the game, though, as game days are very busy. Maps to our games are always available to be picked up at the Athletic Office during the week. □

From the A.D.

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

Why has it taken 31 years for our football program to win its first four games in a row?

The obvious answers that most people will come up with are likely to be "poor coaches," "poor players," "tough schedule," and "no community support."

I have been here most of those 31 years, and I have watched excellent coaches with good talent play tough schedules with pretty good community support, and yet we always seemed to come up just a little short.

I have watched too many years of our programs (not just football) making excuses like, "Well, if so-and-so wasn't hurt, we would have won," and, "The referees cheated or we would have won," or, "The other team has better equipment or more players, and that cost us this game."

As I write this, it's 7:30 on a Saturday morning, and I know that most of those coaches and players did not get home until at least 1 a.m. last night, and who knows when or if they got to sleep, but they are all here, six hours later, to begin preparing for Adrian next week.

When these kids and coaches went 0-9 last season, they made no "excuses." They simply said, "We didn't work hard enough to win any games."

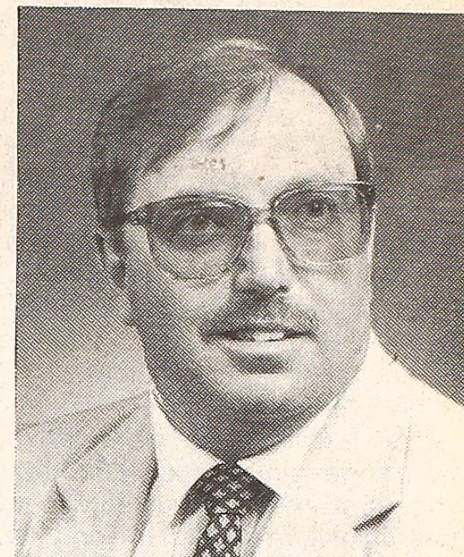

No one looked to blame anyone else; instead, they looked at each other and asked, "What are you going to do to make us a better team?"

That simple little change in our "work ethic" may be why, 31 years later, we are looking at a 4-0 start.

Maybe for too many years we looked to blame others rather than work hard for what we desired.

I wonder if that same attitude has not created some of our community problems over the past year.

Listen around town and see if you don't hear a lot of people "placing blame," but not working hard to change anything that they don't like.

Our football coaches and players may or may not have the greatest season in 31 years for Romulus High, but, if nothing else, maybe their attitude and work ethic will make people see what can be done with less talk, fewer excuses, and more hard work.

I wonder if crime, Airport problems, TIFA problems, and, especially, contract problems, couldn't be resolved if people would just adopt a new attitude?

Anyway, great start, guys! Your accomplishments are a major source of pride for our school and community, and, more important, you may just possibly be showing some of us older, set-in-our-ways individuals that a simple change in attitude and behavior can turn 31 years of "tradition" into history.

Great things are happening with Romulus football, and, if you look around, great things are happening with this community and school system. Why not become an active, hard-working member of that entire change process?

See you ALL . . . Friday, 7:30 p.m. . . . Carl Morris Field . . . Romulus vs Adrian. It should be a great game! □

Romulus Community Schools Fall Sports Update

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

RHS JV Football

Record: 3-1

A 34-2 win over Brooklyn Columbia Central saw the junior varsity Eagles rebound from their 26-12 loss to Garden City.

Phillip Franklin scored four touchdowns with 266 total yards on just seven runs. Phillip returned after sitting out the week before for disciplinary reasons, and obviously decided to come to play as hard as he could.

Joining Phillip over 100 yards was fullback James Erquhart, who scampered 73 yards for one touchdown and had 42 other yards for a total of 115 in the evening.

Chris Marcouilliar, also returning from a one-game suspension, had an excellent evening blocking at the guard position to open the holes for Phillip and James.

Matt Ladach, Randy Orme, and Eric Nunlee led the defense for the young Eagles as they improved their totals to 121 points scored while giving up only 32 to their opponents.

"We have had to sit some of our kids out the last couple of weeks for breaking team rules," stated Coach Dale Evans, "and every one of them has returned from their suspension showing the desire to be a much better team player."

Coach Brian Tapp added, "We would love to win the rest of our games, but, realistically, our goal is to make players who will fit into our varsity program, and discipline is the key to success at that level."

The JVs have two tough road games coming up, as they travel to Adrian this Thursday and then to Essex of Ontario for their first-ever experience at Canadian-rule football.

RHS Tennis

Record: 1-6

Coach Dan Stearn and his women's tennis team made history this week by winning the first match ever in the history of girls' tennis at RHS.

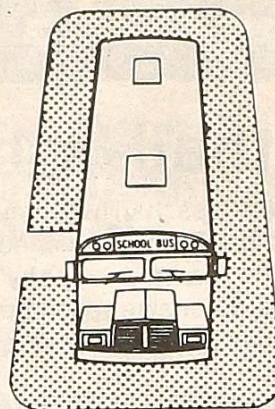

With a predominantly freshman and sophomore team to build his program, Coach Stearn was elated with the success of his team, both in the 5-2 victory over New Boston and in their performance all season.

Alicia Fitzhugh and Jamie Taylor have had recent victories in matches as a double team, and they combined with freshmen Michelle Slawinski and Jaime McGraw for doubles victories in the match against New Boston.

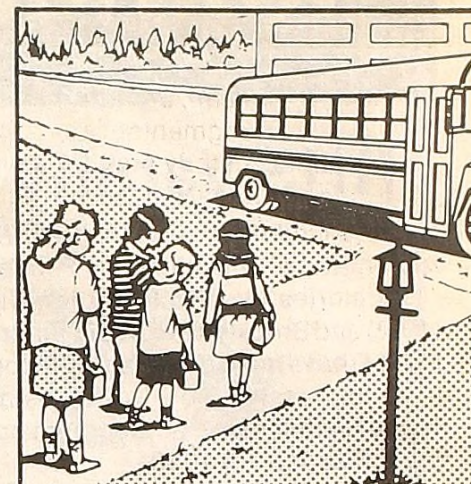

Sophomore Lisa Decker and senior Jenny McClure also won their singles matches to secure the victory. Senior captain and first singles player, Stacy Zilka, is just now returning from an elbow injury, and her return to a healthy status could lead to more victories for this first-year program.

PARENTS: TEACH YOUR CHILD ABOUT SCHOOL BUS SAFETY

Stay clear of the "Danger Zone," a ten-foot wide area around the bus that puts students at risk.

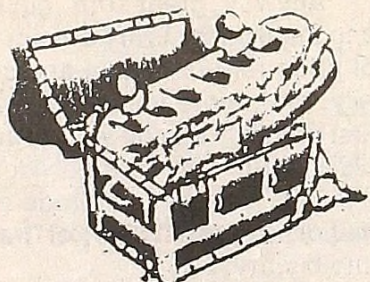

Always wait for your bus at a safety spot -- a safe area well back from the road.

Never go under the bus for dropped objects or loose papers. Ask the bus driver for help.

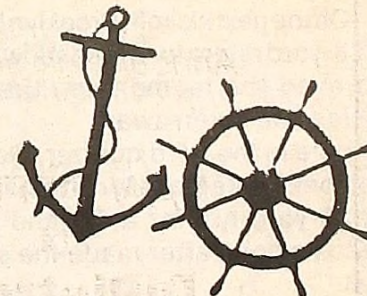

Always look in every direction before crossing in front of the bus.

Point of Law

By Murray A. Duncan, Jr., attorney

All orders or judgments of a circuit court in a child custody matter must be affirmed on appeal unless the trial judge made findings of fact against the great weight of evidence or made a clear legal error on a major issue. The fact that the mother had temporary custody of her minor child pursuant with a temporary order in a divorce action does not prevent the court from awarding custody to the father on the basis that it is in the best interest of the child to do so.

An appeals court will not reverse or modify a property division in a divorce action unless the appeals court determines that it would have reached a different result had it occupied the position of the trial court. The objective in arriving at a property settlement is to attain a division which is fair in light of all the circumstances. In making a division of property or an award of alimony, the court must examine the duration of the marriage, contributions of the parties to the joint estate, the parties' station in life and earning abilities, fault or past misconduct.

If you have a legal question that you would like answered, you may send your question to my office and I will attempt to address it in a future issue. Questions should be mailed to:

ing the Jaycees' Fall State Convention at the Radisson Hotel in Romulus. That's our main thrust right now.

"Overall, we have an ongoing program paving the way for us to adopt a Romulus family for Christmas. We're also constantly involved in the Adopt-A-Highway program, and, recently, we were part of the Muscular Dystrophy Association's 'Help Jerry's Kids' weekend. Last year, we took part in Romulus's annual festival, and we're planning on it again.

"In the future, we're planning on a 'Meet The Candidates' party in October. Also, we'd like to sponsor a bowling tournament to raise funds, and we'd like to put up a wheelchair ramp for a handicapped Romulus resident.

"We'll continue raising money through our traffic intersection drives. The intersection fund drives we've had so far have been very successful. The people of Romulus have been very generous." Later, I discovered that, at a recent intersection fund drive, instead of giving candy to the motorists, they received a copy of a poem written by Shank, honoring the memory of United States Army Sergeant Stanley Bartusiak, who died in Operation Desert Storm.

When queried about being editor of the Jaycees' newsletter, she grinned, "I have a ball with it. It's a monthly newsletter of six to eight pages filled with Jaycees information and upcoming events. Also, I try to add some humor, which is a lot of fun for me. Another plus is that, as editor, it gives me a chance to communicate with other Jaycees chapters in the area." Since Shank became editor, the newsletter has won two awards.

What started as a hobby, she said, is now leading to preparatory computer graphics classes at Henry Ford Community College. She's also taking English classes to "help me grow with my writing."

* * *

Married 20 years, Shank and her husband, Ken, 38, were "high-school sweethearts." Ken is Division Manager for Eagle Snacks, his territory encompassing all of lower Michigan.

They both love the outdoors and bowling in a league. Ken's also an avid and good golfer. Sharon's hobbies are writing poetry and composing lyrics for a piano-playing friend who writes his own music. The Shanks have a dog, Shadow, who's part German shepherd and part doberman. Shank fondly refers to Shadow as "our overgrown baby."

* * *

Oh, yes, the burning coals. . . . During a difficult time in Shank's chemotherapy year, she attended a motivation seminar, the theme being "Turning Fear Into Power." The highly intense speaker began convincing the audience (approximately 200 people) that they could do anything with a "mind over matter" attitude.

Before long, one by one, the people actually began walking over the 1,200°F coals. . . . Shank included.

"I was amazed even while I was doing it. I ended up with one small burn on one of my toes—and that was it! That unbelievable incident, combined with my cancer experience, was when my life took new directions. . . . all good!"

And, surely as Sharon Shank is a survivor and a winner, she makes us all survivors and winners, too. □

Traffic Stop

Stop Signs

By Officer Rick Schwartz, Romulus Police Department

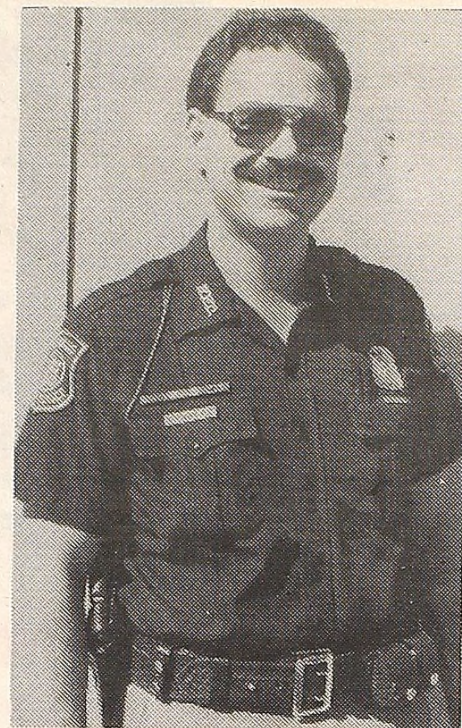

I frequently receive calls from residents who want stop signs erected in order to stop speeders. Please read carefully the following regulations concerning the installation of these signs.

STOP signs are one of the oldest methods of controlling traffic at intersections where the application of the normal right-of-way rule is unduly hazardous. Even though it is generally recognized that STOP signs are the most restrictive type of signing, there has been a steady growth in the proliferation of unwarranted installations. Many of these installations have resulted from requests by local residents to control vehicle speeds in neighborhoods or for pedestrian safety.

The unwarranted installation of STOP signs causes unnecessary stops, resulting in added brake wear, excessive fuel consumption, and added air pollution, as well as breeding disrespect for all STOP signs.

Because the STOP sign causes a substantial inconvenience to motorists, it should be used only where warranted.

The Michigan Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices (MUTCD) presents four conditions where STOP signs may be warranted:

- at the intersection of a less important road with a main road where application of the normal right-of-way rule is unduly hazardous;
- on a street entering a through high-way or street;
- at an unsignalized intersection in a signalized area; and
- at other intersections where a combination of high speed, restricted view, and serious accident record indicates a need for control by a STOP sign.

Despite these guidelines, many unwarranted STOP signs have been erected around the Country. While many people believe that STOP signs are the most effective way of controlling speed and improving safety on residential streets, traffic and safety engineers disagree. They say that many of the STOP signs installed by town councils to placate neighborhood groups work to the disadvantage of the public. Traffic experts agree that unnecessary STOP signs:

- cause accidents that they are designed to prevent;
- breed contempt for other necessary STOP signs;
- waste millions of gallons of gasoline annually;

- add tons of pollutants to the air;
- create added noise pollution; and
- increase, rather than decrease, speeds between intersections.

The MUTCD lists the following conditions where STOP signs should not be installed:

- on through roadways or expressways;
- on the major street where two main highways intersect (unless a traffic engineering study justifies such an installation);
- indiscriminately at unprotected railroad crossings; and

Sassy Seniors

By Mary E. Clark

Special thanks are due to Sheila Hicks, Manager of the Romulus Towers; Marilyn Masters, Senior Citizens Coordinator for the City of Romulus; and Barbara Schultz, Senior Center staff member, for contributing information to this issue's "Sassy Seniors" column.

Happy Birthday!

I would like to send special birthday wishes to those of my neighbors at the Romulus Tower who were born in the month of September: Verdell Bailey (staff), Bernice Bell, Alice Briggs, Jessie Crandall, Harvey DeRosier, Viola Dowis, Joe Goormastic (staff), Elsie Karbginsky, Lucille Miller, Muriel Smith, and Lucretia Yarde.

Check Your Blood Pressure

Romulus seniors can receive a free blood-pressure reading at the Senior Center from 1 to 3 p.m. on Monday, October 7.

Flu Shots

The flu can be a very dangerous illness, especially for the elderly. Seniors can protect themselves by getting flu shots before flu season begins. On Tuesday, October 8, from 9 to 11:30 a.m., Annapolis Hospital will be at the Senior Center to administer flu vaccinations for a cost of only $5. Each participant must sign a consent form and have a blood-pressure check prior to receiving a shot. All vaccinations will be performed by a registered nurse.

Pinochle – Euchre – Bunco

If you love to play the games of pinochle, euchre, and bunco, join old and new friends at the Center each Tuesday from 1 to 3:30 p.m. for refreshments and cards, cards, cards! There's no charge; just come and have fun!

October Trips

Trip sign-up sheets for the month of October will be out at the Center on Tuesday, October 1. Space often fills quickly, so don't delay!

"Night Out"

Join other seniors for a night out at the Pickle Barrel Restaurant in Willis on Tuesday, October 8. Sign up at the Senior Center.

Friday Senior Van Trips

For a transportation fee of $1.50, Romulus seniors can ride the Senior Van for lunch and a movie on September 27, or shopping at Southland Mall on October 4 (other expenses are not covered). On October 11, the Senior Bus will be going to Greenfield Village; the cost of transportation and admission is $10. Sign up at the Center if you are interested.

Special Trips

Andy Williams/Niagara Falls Festival of Lights—Enjoy a performance by Andy Williams when he brings his special kind of magic to Niagara Falls in a spectacular Christmas show. Amidst the twinkling of thousands of tiny, colorful lights, the Falls become a veritable holiday fairyland. Visit the delightful displays on both the American and Canadian sides of the Falls and view the magnificent cataract dressed in its holiday garb. The $159 cost (based on double-occupancy rates) of this two day/one night trip, which departs December 12, includes round-trip motorcoach transportation, one night's lodging, dinner at Table Rock House overlooking the falls, a ticket to the Andy Williams Christmas show, breakfast, a driving tour of the festival of lights, and more! Contact Marilyn Masters at the Senior Center (942-6852) if you are interested.

Christmas at Whiting—Make plans to enjoy a special holiday program on December 19, when the Senior Center takes a one-day trip to Flint to see a production of the Christmas story in song and dance. Included in the $43.50 cost are round-trip motorcoach transportation, admission to the show, and dinner at Walli's Supper Club. Final payment is due now, so call Marilyn Masters (942-6852) right away if you are interested. □

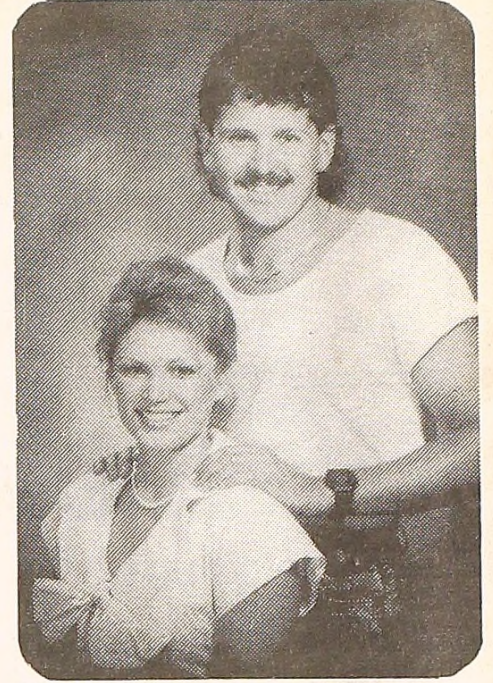

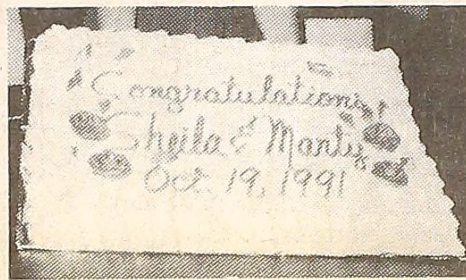

Seniors Throw Shower for Romulus Towers Manager

By Mary E. Clark

Not being folks who let an opportunity for a party go by, the residents of Romulus Tower jumped for joy when manager Sheila Hicks let it be known that she is getting married.

Plans were made to give Sheila a surprise kitchen shower, and much "sh-sh"-ing went on weekends and daily after five o'clock. I wondered if it could be kept secret. It was. She was in shock when she arrived in the Multi-purpose Room (to settle an issue for residents, she thought).

Gifts, a large cake, and, yes, even a corsage—all were there for her. The gifts were everything imaginable to use in the kitchen, from aluminum foil to a colander, and included Sheila's favorite dinnerware—paper plates. Each item was beautifully wrapped by staff members Maureen Baratone and Alecia Karrick, and Sheila unwrapped everyone. The corsage was from "Unusual Flowers and Arrangements" by Johanna Laskey. (Its "blossoms" were items from the kitchen.) The cake was beautiful and delicious.

It was our pleasure to enjoy this wonderful hour with Sheila, whose wedding date has been set for October 19. Marty McGinnis is the lucky young man.

To the two of them, I'd like to wish a life of good health, happiness, and prosperity, but most of all I wish them God's blessings.

Be good to each other. □

Daly Restaurant To Celebrate Its 20th Anniversary

By Rita Grace

On Tuesday, October 1, 1991, the Daly Restaurant (12224 Huron River Drive, Romulus) will celebrate its twentieth anniversary.

Although many, many things have changed during this time, the dedication and loyalty of the employees has enabled us to keep satisfied customers throughout the years.

Sue Kramer and Pam Swauger are two of our long-standing employees, with starting dates of November 5, 1973, and July 24, 1976, respectively. Georgette Levesque, a wonderful employee with an infectious smile, sadly passed away last spring after 15 years of service. Manager Donna Stein began in 1981; she keeps all of us on our toes.

Five years ago, the owner, Gary Grace, died suddenly. It was a very sad day for everyone. I think he would be pleased that we are still around—a sure sign that he taught us well!

Please stop by for a piece of cake and cup of coffee! We're sure that you'll enjoy the food and the folks! □

Port Side

By Captain Ron Dubsky, Ice Breaker II Sport Fishing Charters (941-3529)

As you can tell by the weather, fall is rapidly approaching. But don't put those rods and reels away yet. The best is yet to come.

Anglers can expect to find excellent walleye action on the Detroit River and Trenton Channel throughout September and October. "The River receives heavy angling interest during the spring run, but few anglers realize the fall fishing is nearly as good," says Frank Chakrabarty of the Trenton Lighthouse. Plenty of three- to five-pound walleye are taken by anglers working leadhead jigs tipped with minnows. The many islands provide ideal structure that holds fish all season long. Be sure to check out Sugar, Celeron, and Horse islands for consistent action. For up-to-date fishing reports, call the Trenton Lighthouse at 313-675-7080.

Lake Erie Perch: The Michigan waters of Lake Erie teem with fall perch fishing opportunities. Look for excellent perch action in the Monroe area around the Raisin River Channel. Most of the fish average eight to 11 inches with some bigger slabs mixed in. Standard two-hook perch rigs baited with small shiner minnows work best. Don't overlook the mud flats off Bolles Harbor near the sailboat marker. The clam beds straight out from Sterling State Park in Brest Bay are also good. Captain Ron suggests that anglers drift fish to locate schools of perch. Once a concentration of these tasty panfish is pinned down, circle back and drop anchor. The rougher the water, the better the perch action gets.

Don't forget: Ice Breaker Charters is offering an all-day perch charter for six people at the price of $200. Bait and tackle are furnished. Call me at 941-3529.

The Belleville Lake report is very good: small- and largemouth bass are hitting in the early morning and about an hour before dark; walleye are biting for fishermen trolling with body baits; panfish are still being caught using waxworms and minnows.

That's all for now. Don't forget: "Take a kid fishing." □

Three Romulus Youths Compete in Skating Events

By Thomas D. Williams

Three Romulus residents participated in the world's largest ice skating competition.

The Ice Skating Institute of America (ISIA) sponsored its recreational skating championships in Chicago last month. Over 2,500 skaters participated in more than 5,000 events at five different ice rinks. The competition ran from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day for six days. In ISIA competition, skaters are placed in events with skaters of the same age and ability level.

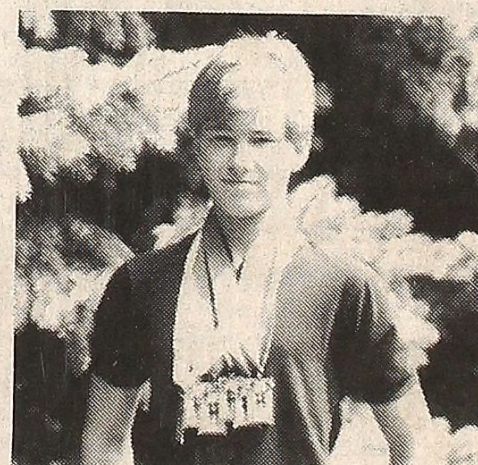

Eric Foss, a seventh-grade student at Romulus Junior High School, skates for Melvindale. Eric is 14 years old and skates level four. He took first place in four events: Figure 1, Spotlight 4, Interpretive 4, and Couples 4 (with Michelle Fultz of Melvindale).

Eric also placed third in Freestyle 4 and Footwork 4.

Melissa Gondek (Eric's sister) is a third grader at Barth Elementary and represents the Wayne Community Center skating program. She skates level 5 and is eight years old. Melissa placed first in Figure 1, second in Footwork 5, and fourth in Interpretive 5 and Freestyle 5.

Amanda Williams is in the sixth grade at Wick Elementary School and also skates for the Wayne Community Center skating program. Mandy is 11 years old and skates level 4. She took third in interpretive, finished fifth as part of the Mini-Jazzettes precision skating team, and took a second as part of the Wayne Competitive Team production number.

Congratulations to all. □

RHS Cross Country

Men: 4-3 Women: 4-3

The double victory by both of the cross country teams over Garden City and Dearborn Heights Robichaud has moved the teams to equal 4-3 records.

Ricky Liberty and Eric Newcomb are leading the way for the men's team, while Tearza Johnson and Erin Fife are the leaders for the women's team.

Coach Dan Henry is pleased with the effort he is getting from his athletes, but is very concerned with the lack of numbers in both programs.

"We run against schools that have 30 to 40 athletes in their program, and that kind of participation really improves your team scores and individual times," Coach Henry said. "We hope to get more interest at the Junior High and in the gym classes to generate more involvement in this sport."

Athletes interested in finding out more about cross country should contact Mr. Coleman or Coach Henry in the High School Athletic Office.

RHS Girls' Basketball

Record: 1-6

A recent victory over Belleville is just what first-year coach Tempie Brown needed to help the confidence of her young Eagle varsity team.

"We have a very tough schedule this season," stated Coach Brown, "and our players are giving their all, but we are just lacking the depth of our opponents and most just wear us down."

Carmita Brown and Crystal Stevenson are having excellent seasons in spite of what looks like a dismal beginning for the young Lady Eagles.

"We are playing hard and showing improvement each game — and, no doubt, as the season progresses, I truly believe we are going to surprise some people," Brown concluded.

The Lady Eagles are home to Bedford High School on Thursday at 5:30 p.m., and we hope to see many of our fans there for "Wick Elementary night."

RHS Golf

Record: 3-3

A recent victory over Melvindale moved the varsity Eagle golf team to an even .500 record for the '91-92 season thus far.

Inconsistency is the problem that is the telltale mark of this year's team, with scores varying as much as 10 strokes per man on any given day.

"We have some fine golfers this year, but their lack of match experience because of our senior team last season shows from time to time," stated Coach Bill Knight.

The Eagles return to action on Thursday versus Taylor Truman in the hopes of regaining their abilities to make a solid effort at qualifying for the Regional Meet to be held at the Taylor Meadows Golf Club on Friday, October 11.

RJHS Football

Record: 1-0

Coaches Don Foley and Tom Williams began their '91-92 season with a 14-6 victory over Toledo Jefferson.

Fifty-five young athletes have chosen to play Junior High football this season, which shows that interest in the total program is on a steady incline throughout the District.

The Bulldogs travel to Adrian this Wednesday before they return home for their eighth-grade contest with Ida on Wednesday, October 2, and a seventh-grade contest with Monroe Jefferson on Thursday, October 3. □

Obituaries

Edwin Lee Westbay

Edwin L. Westbay of Romulus died September 15, 1991. He was 78 years old.

Edwin was born in Wapakoneta, Ohio, on November 23, 1912. He was the second born of a set of triplets (brother Edgar Dee was born first and sister Edna Marie came third).

Edwin was the beloved husband of Gerry Westbay. He is survived by two sons, Edwin J. (Lincoln Park) and Donald (Novi); one daughter, Betty Garrette (Westland); two stepdaughters, Lois Jones (Romulus) and Patricia Rennie (Taylor); four brothers, Kermit (Florida), Kenneth (Ohio), Vernon (Ohio), and Berlin (Michigan); one sister, Edna Fisher (Ohio); six grandchildren; four stepgrandchildren; and eight step-great-grandchildren. Brother Edgar predeceased him

10 years ago.

His body was donated to Wayne State University's Department of Medical Science. □

"CROPWALK" Will Raise Money To Fight Hunger

By Carolyn Landis

On Sunday, October 6, Romulus and Belleville churches will work together for the tenth year in a row to raise important dollars to fight hunger, both in our community and throughout the world.

Over 200 people will participate in the 1991 CROPWALK. They hope to meet their fundraising goal of at least $15,000 by getting pledges (per mile) for their walk from either Community United Methodist Church (Romulus) or St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church (Belleville) along Huron River Drive to the other church and then back.

This year, the mayor of Romulus, the mayor and city manager of Belleville, and the supervisor of Van Buren Township have all been invited to join participants from seven churches in making the tenth anniversary walk a special one.

One-fourth of the money raised stays in the Romulus-Belleville region and is donated directly to four Area hunger agencies: Romulus Helping Hand, St. Vincent de Paul, Belleville Emergency Food Closet, and Wayne-Metro Soup Kettle. The remaining 75% of the monies raised is sent to fight hunger throughout the United States and the world.

This is the only ecumenical (inter-church) service project in Romulus and Belleville, and, this year, seven Area churches will be participating: Community United Methodist Church, St. Aloysius Catholic Church (Romulus), St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Belleville United Methodist Church, Trinity Episcopal Church (Belleville), Belleville United Presbyterian Church, and Faith United Methodist Church (Denton).

Area businesses are being solicited for donations, too, and will sport bright red signs in their windows if they contribute. Walkers will be wearing special donated CROPWALK hats.

Last year, over 150 people walked and raised over $10,300 in just one afternoon. Over the course of a year, more than 115 communities throughout Michigan raised $1.4 million for CROPWALK, leading the Nation in fighting hunger through walkathons.

Questions should be addressed to CROPWALK coordinator, Fr. John Hagan (11575 Belleville Road, Belleville, MI 48111-2401/699-3361); contributions should be made out to CWS/CROP and sent to that address. □

"Walk for Life" To Benefit Mothers, Babies

The Pregnancy Counseling Center of Ypsilanti (2950 Packard Road) is sponsoring a Walk for Life on Saturday, October 5. The three-mile walk begins at the Center at 9 a.m.

The Center's primary focus is to help meet the needs of women and their babies in crisis pregnancy situations. Counseling includes discussion about sexual responsibility, childbirth and prenatal classes, referrals for quality medical care, provision for clothes and furniture, and help in arranging live-in accommodations.

Arrangements have been made to allow people who would like to walk locally to do so on Sunday, October 6, with CROPWALK participants. For more information, call Rev. J.D. Landis (941-0736/941-3474). □

PERSONAL

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AMANDA ELIZABETH!

Have you now reached the age of the "terrible twos"?
Someone must have forgotten about the "ornery ones"! It's okay baby. You're also just as "sweet as sugar" and we all love you very much.

Love,

Your Great Big Family!
